If you have a medical emergency, seek care at the closest medical facility or call 9-1-1 immediately. For other minor problems, call your Primary Care Physician for advice. The most common conditions are listed below; however, there may be other conditions that need emergency care that are not listed here.

Some conditions that require Emergency Department care are:

- Loss of consciousness
- Intense pain
- Symptoms of a heart attack or stroke
- Severe breathing problems
- Head or neck injuries
- Major broken bones (leg, hip, arm, or severe deformity to a bone)
- Gaping wound
- Severe burns
- Seizures
- Uncontrolled vomiting and diarrhea

Advanced levels of care are available at the area's only Level I Trauma Center at Orlando Regional Medical Center 24 hours a day.
