Orlando – The City Beautiful and So Much More

Great Environment for Business

In a state that is both right-to-work and has no personal income tax, the city of Orlando offers a business-friendly habitat complete with competitive incentives and unique opportunities for partnership and collaboration.

Unbeatable Quality of Life

The region provides a rich lifestyle for residents through cultural opportunities, arts, fashion, music, amateur and professional sports, favorable weather and abundant recreational activities.

Variety of Real Estate Options

From ultra-modern high-rise buildings to undeveloped acreage and everything in between, Orlando offers a diverse array of real estate options. From a residential perspective, Orlando has it all, from rolling hills and lakeside lots to brick-lined streets with craftsman style homes to suburban communities named among the nation's top places to live.

Top-Ranked Infrastructure

Named the eighth-best large city in the United States for infrastructure (fDi Magazine, 2015), Orlando has perfected the art of getting to and from the city for both its residents and 68 million visitors per year.

Strong Talent Pipeline

No matter what level of skill is needed — from youthful, just out-of-school graduates to seasoned professionals — Orlando offers a diverse and well-prepared labor pool of more than 1.2 million people. Orlando also has plentiful talent looking well into the future, with more than 500,000 students within a 100-mile radius, helping Florida rank among the top 10 states in the nation for talent pipeline (U.S. Chamber of Commerce Enterprising States).
